

Dr Stenman is an Associate Professor in Paediatric Surgery at Karolinska Institute in Stockholm. He currently leads the LuDO-N Trial, assessing radio-pharmaceutical therapy with single agent  $^{177}\text{Lu}$ -DOTATATE for relapsed or refractory neuroblastoma. His research interest is focused on development of the next generation of radio-pharmaceutical therapy for neuroblastoma. Dr Stenman is clinical lead of the oncological surgery at the Department of Pediatric Surgery, Karolinska University Hospital. He is a member of the SIOPEN Surgical Committee and a board member of the Nordic Society for Paediatric Haematology and Oncology (NOPHO).

